fill the seats

Imagine this: on a crisp fall evening there is a contagious buzz in the air. Folks around you are excitedly chatting about this long-anticipated moment: The night the Patricia Reser Center for the Arts is finally open!

You and your friends saunter along the sweeping curve of Crescent Street towards the Center, awed by the way it glows at dusk. You find yourself drawn in, feeling welcomed by the open space that somehow feels as cozy as it is expansive.

As you make your way into the theater, a wave of pride and gratitude comes over you as you find your family's name adorned on a seat. It stirs within you a deep sense of connection with this place as you revel in knowing that you believed in this vision and helped to bring it to life. When you take your seat, the lights are dimmed and applause fills the theater. You know that you are about to witness one of many performances that will inspire, connect and enhance your community for generations to come.

You feel elated and a deep sense of gratitude to know you've made your mark; that you were a part of this legacy.

We invite you to make a meaningful contribution to the Patricia Reser Center for the Arts by donating to our "Fill the Seats" seat naming campaign. Designated donations of $1,000 will be honored with a name plaque on one of the seats in the 550-seat theater. You can dedicate a seat as an individual, a couple or family, in memory of a loved one, or with the name of your school, business, or organization. You could even dedicate a seat as a gift for a special occasion. Act soon as we have a limited number of seats available and they are going quickly!
